

Sustaining Evidence-Based High-Dosage Tutoring

U.S. Department of Education Resources

This resource provides information on select federal education funding sources and technical assistance that can support school districts in expanding high-dosage tutoring.

FORMULA GRANTS

Schools can use the following formula grant funds to sustain activities related to high-quality tutoring.

Title I, Part A funds, including school improvement funds under section 1003, may be used to support high-dosage tutoring in schools receiving Title I funds.

Title II, Part A funds may be used to train educators on delivering instruction via high-dosage tutoring, if the tutoring is part of a comprehensive professional development plan.

Title III, Part A funds may be used for high-dosage tutoring for English learners to help them attain English proficiency and develop high levels of academic achievement in content areas.

Title IV, Part A funds may be used to support tutoring to expand student access to well-rounded educational opportunities.

Title IV, Part B (Nita M. Lowey 21st Century Community Learning Centers) funds may be used to support high-dosage tutoring during non-school hours.

Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) Part B funds may be used to provide special education and related services and supplementary aids and services to a child with a disability in accordance with their individualized education program (IEP). These services may include high-dosage tutoring if appropriate and be included in the child's IEP.

DISCRETIONARY GRANTS

Schools can apply for funding to continue the innovative programs they created with recovery funds.

Full-Service Community Schools provide wraparound supports and provide learning acceleration opportunities.

Promise Neighborhoods provide comprehensive cradle-to-career supports to students in low-income neighborhoods.

Comprehensive Literacy State Development Grants advance literacy skills through evidence-based practices, activities and interventions for high-need schools.

Innovative Approaches to Literacy Grants promote innovative literacy programs and ensure students have access to high-quality literacy opportunities and resources.

Education, Innovation, & Research Grants promote innovative programs that improve student achievement, including programs schools created with ESSER funds.

For more information on how to apply for U.S. Department of Education grants, visit:
[https://www2.ed.gov/fund/grants-
apply.html](https://www2.ed.gov/fund/grants-apply.html)

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Access free evidence-based resources and request support from the Department of Education technical assistance centers.

The National Center on Improving Literacy can help increase the use of evidence-based approaches to screen, identify, and teach students with literacy-related disabilities. <https://improvingliteracy.org/>

The Research on Education Strategies to Advance Recovery and Turnaround (RESTART) Network focuses on identifying and disseminating evidence-based strategies aligned with the needs of policymakers, leaders, and educators who are serving and supporting accelerated student recovery efforts. <https://restartnetwork.org/>

MORE FEDERAL RESOURCES

The National Partnership for Student Success (NPSS) is a public-private partnership led by the Department, AmeriCorps, and the Everyone Graduates Center at Johns Hopkins University that helps schools, youth-serving organizations, and state and local governments create, expand and improve programs supporting students through five evidence-based roles, including high-dosage tutoring. <https://www.partnershipstudentsuccess.org/>

The Engage Every Student Initiative (EES) is a cross-organization partnership that provides high-quality out-of-school time learning opportunities for every child who wants to participate. <https://engageeverystudent.org/>

SELECT DEPARTMENT RESOURCES

Find select resources on high-dosage tutoring from the Department and technical assistance centers.

Establishing and Implementing Tutoring Programs helps States and schools stand up high-quality tutoring programs. It also provides best practices for planning the expansion of tutoring programs throughout a local education agency. <https://compcenternetwork.org/resources/resource/6741/learning-recovery-how-develop-and-implement-effective-tutoring-programs>

Raise The Bar: Strategies to Improve Student Achievement provides guidance to schools on accelerating student learning through high-dosage tutoring. <https://www.ed.gov/raisethebar/academic-success>

For more information on U.S. Department of Education resources, visit: <https://oese.ed.gov/resources>

